Balance life on the inside (roto) and the outside (waho). Each round you must use the result from both dice: One must be used on the inside (roto), which is the darker, left half of the sheet – and the other must be used outside (waho), the lighter side of the sheet. The two spaces in the middle counts as both.

